What is COP?

The Conference of the Parties (COP), is an annual event where countries come together to discuss climate change and find ways to limit global warming.

Every year, it serves as a platform for world leaders, ministers, and experts to share ideas, commit to new goals, and develop strategies to protect our planet.

This year, Azerbaijan has been selected as the Presidency of the 29th Conference of the Parties (COP29), to be hosted in Baku this November. Azerbaijan has a strong track record of hosting international events and has chosen Baku Stadium as the venue for COP29.

Framework for Action

1. Our fixed objective

We all have a moral duty to avoid overshooting the 1.5°C temperature target. But the window of opportunity is closing and we must focus on the need to invest today to save tomorrow. Our fixed priority is delivering deep, rapid and sustained emission reductions now to keep temperatures under control and stay below 1.5°C, while leaving no one behind.

2. Enhance ambition and enable action

The COP29 Presidency's plan is based on two mutually reinforcing parallel pillars. The first pillar—to "enhance ambition"—combines key elements to ensure all parties commit to ambitious national plans and transparency. The second pillar—to "enable action"—reflects the critical role of finance, a key tool to turn ambition into action and reduce emissions, adapt to climate change and address loss and damage.

3. Inclusive process for inclusive outcomes

The COP29 Presidency is listening to and engaging with a broad range of international stakeholders. It is working to ensure everyone's voices are heard and perspectives are considered and included so that we deliver inclusive outcomes based on shared solutions. We are optimistic that together we can make real progress.
