

Contributors

MASATO ABE is an Economic Affairs Officer in the Private Sector and Development Section, Trade and Investment Division, United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP). He has extensive experience in enterprise development with a special emphasis on the SME sector and supply chain management. Prior to joining the United Nations, he worked in the global automotive, electronics and high-technology industries. He holds degrees in marketing, business administration and economics, and is a research fellow at Thammasat University.

R.A. ATTALAGE is a Professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, University of Moratuwa, Sri Lanka and has worked in this capacity since 2003. He obtained his B.Sc. in Engineering (Honours) Degree from the University of Moratuwa, his MEng in Energy Technology from the Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Thailand, and a Ph.D. from the École des Mines de Paris. He has worked as a consultant to the Asian Development Bank, the World Bank, and Nexant Inc. on energy related assignments. He is also a chartered engineer and has several publications in journals and has made presentations in many international and national conferences and seminars.

BHUBAN B. BAJRACHARYA is an independent development economist. He obtained his Ph.D. in Economics from Delhi School of Economics. He was Professor of Economics at the Centre for Economic Development and Administration, Tribhuban University, Nepal. He has worked in the fields of planning, poverty analysis, economic and sectoral policy analysis and monitoring and evaluation. He served as an advisor to the National Planning Commission and Ministry of Finance, Nepal. He has worked in different capacities for the Asian Development Bank, the Danish International Development Agency (DANIDA), the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP), the International Centre for Integrated Mountain Development (ICIMOD), the International Labour Organization (ILO), the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC), the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and the World Bank.

SHEIKH MORSHED JAHAN is a private sector development specialist, with 18 years of experience in teaching, training and research. He provides strategic and advisory services to businesses, industry associations and development organizations. His areas of expertise include market development, intervention design, sector study, value chain analysis, market research, feasibility study, stakeholder mapping and policy analysis. Currently an Associate Professor at the Institute of Business Administration (IBA), University of Dhaka, he teaches in MBA, Executive MBA and BBA programmes. He holds an MA in international development policy from Duke University and an MBA from the University of Dhaka. He was a Commonwealth fellow at IIM-Ahmedabad and a Joint Japan/World Bank scholar (JJ/WBGSP) at Duke.

ANANDA K.W. JAYAWARDANE was Dean, Faculty of Engineering and a Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Moratuwa, Sri Lanka when this project commenced. Prof. Jayawardane, a Chartered Engineer, has co-authored textbooks and published and presented many research papers both locally and internationally. His research interests include project management, technology management, technology transfer, national innovation systems, disaster management and social management systems. He holds a BSc in Engineering from the University of Moratuwa, an MSc in Construction from the Loughborough University of Technology, the United Kingdom and a Ph.D. in Construction Management from the same university.

MOHAMMAD SAIF NOMAN KHAN is an Assistant Professor at the Institute of Business Administration (IBA), University of Dhaka. He has many years of corporate experience working in the financial sector. He has undertaken management and business consultancy projects both in the public and private sectors. He has conducted research and published research papers on micro, small and medium enterprises and banking in Bangladesh. He has also worked for the World Bank in Dhaka. He received an MBA in Finance from the IBA, University of Dhaka. He also holds a BA and MA degrees in English Literature from the University of Dhaka.

POSH RAJ PANDEY is the President of South Asia Watch on Trade Economics and Environment (SAWTEE), a consortium of South Asian NGOs, working to build capacity of concerned stakeholders in the context of liberalization and globalization. He holds a Ph. D. in Economics and Master's Degrees in Business Management and in Economics. He was a member of the National Planning Commission of Nepal. He has worked with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) in Nepal on the issues of multilateral trade integration and trade related capacity-building. He has published research papers on international trade in various national and international journals/books.