People pay into the state in middle age and take money out when they are young and old.
Countries spend most on primary and secondary education
Countries strike very different balances between flexibility for employers and security for workers.
Will young people have a better or worse life than their parents?

[Bar chart showing responses by country to the question: To what extent do you feel that today's youth will have a better or worse life than their parents or will it be about the same?]
Social mobility: how many generations does it take to go from being low income to middle income in different countries?
Thank You
