Context

1. Significant Progress regarding the realization of universal and responsive CRVS in the Asia and Pacific
2. The Bali Process Civil Registration Assessment Toolkit
3. Way Forward
1. Significant Progress regarding the realization of universal and responsive CRVS in the Asia and Pacific

- “Ministerial Declaration to “Get everyone in the picture” in Asia and the Pacific, 2014.”

- “Regional Action Framework on Civil Registration and Vital Statistics in Asia and the Pacific”

- The Sixth Ministerial Conference of the Bali Process in 2016

  “Bali Process members acknowledged, “…the importance of civil registration in providing identity and basic protection for individuals, as well as helping States track migration flows.”
The Bali Process CRVS Toolkit has two (2) parts:
- General guide on civil registration
- Self-assessment tools
2. The Bali Process Civil Registration Assessment Toolkit

The four (4) key principles of the Bali Process Toolkit:

- First, it is designed to be a government-driven process.
- Second, it is based on comprehensive and cross-sectoral approach.
- Third, it is a flexible and adaptable tool.
- Fourth, it is a complementary tool to broader civil registration effort.
3. Way Forward

- Room for further improvement of the Bali Process Toolkit
  “Reinforcing usefulness and practicality of the toolkit with cumulative experience of MS.”

- The official launch of the Bali Process Civil Registration Assessment Toolkit (Tentative June 2021)

- The webinar/conference on sharing experiences among and between the Member States on the use of Toolkit. (Tentative June 2021)
