

The background of the slide is a large, light blue grid. Within this grid, numerous small, colorful squares are scattered, each containing a white icon representing one of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals. The icons include symbols for people, nature, industry, and social justice, arranged in a pattern that roughly outlines the map of Turkmenistan.

Mission:

To inspire and inform policies and practices that lead to a more sustainable world, using education, evidence, broad based dialogue and action in alliance with others.

Main Objectives:

- Promote the internalization of a sustainable development paradigm by development stakeholders in Turkmenistan and the principle of leave no one behind;
- Advance 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in Turkmenistan through secondary and higher level education programmes and civil service enhancement;
- Provide sound analysis and evidence on sustainable development policies and practices that can help inform ideas and action;
- Build bridges and stimulate dialogue among multiple stakeholders and across disciplinary fields on the conceptualization and implementation of sustainable development.

Main stakeholders:

- Secondary and tertiary education institutions
- Civil servants and the policy Makers
- Academia
- Civil society
- Private business
- Media
- Multilateral organizations

Work streams

Focusing on training teachers in the secondary schools
In Integrating sustainable development into the formal curricula

Working with institutes of tertiary education different universities – focusing both on faculty and students

Developing capacities of the civil servants, as the transformative agenda requires them to pay far more attention to policy development and coherence and see through the lenses of economic, social, and environmental development

Creating a multi-stakeholder platform which enables an informative opportunity for reflection around the implementation of the Agenda by different stakeholders

Dance Festival on the Global Goals Reaches Over One Thousand People.

This project engaged youth, diplomatic community, NGOs, national partners, private sector to learn about SDGs and raise awareness public at large with core principle "leaving no one behind". The event was held within SDG Month of October 2018 to speed up the implementation of SDGs in Turkmenistan and mark 1000 days of its adoption. It was organized with Music society of Turkmenistan, local NGO with the support of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Turkmenistan.

The members of Music Society who were the local choreographers were invited for several meetings where they were introduced to definitions, targets, principals of SDGs, the progress of the country made so far and the ideas on how every person can contribute to it.

It was agreed to have 17 dance performances that will show of what are SDGs about. The 300 performers were young people with age range between 4-30 years including people with disabilities. With thematic dances, the performers conveyed the ideas and principles of Agenda 2030 through contemporary choreography.

More than eight hundred spectators at the Concert Hall welcomed all performances with standing ovations. The Festival ended with the Awarding Ceremony of Master Choreographers and small gifts to all participants.
