Date:	Friday, 31 March 2017
Venue:	Meeting Room A
Time:	11:30 – 12:30
What will be discussed?
This side event aims to explore the interconnections between sexual and reproductive health and rights, gender equality and poverty eradication. It will also look at progress and gaps in achieving sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) in the Asia-Pacific region, as well as take a critical look at indicators being proposed at the global level to see whether they really measure the change that we want to achieve. The meaningful engagement of civil society, in partnership with government and UN agencies is critical for discussions on how to best to address marginalization and inequality, and ensuring no one is left behind.
Key Questions?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ How and why fulfillment of sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) is necessary to eradicate poverty and achieve gender equality in Asia Pacific? ○ How do we measure SRHR, address limitations of data, and ensure that the rights aspects are captured in the indicators discussion? ○ How can we reach those left behind and ensure their engagement in implementing, monitoring, and providing feedback on the Agenda 2030?

The contribution of Family Farming to achieving SDGs in Asia
Date:	Friday, 31 March 2017
Venue:	Meeting Room E
Time:	11:30 – 12:30
What will be discussed?
From the stand point that the development of sensible policies towards family farming is key in eradicating poverty in Asia, this event aims at creating a strategic alliance between farmers groups, coalitions working specifically on family farming and those NGOs working on rural development and poverty eradication. This side-event will present the importance of promoting better policies for family farmers and it will generate recommendations towards localizing SDG commitment especially at national level. Specifically this side event will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Show real examples of local and regional efforts to end hunger, achieve food security, improve nutrition and promote sustainable agriculture. ✓ Increase the visibility and recognition of the important role that family farming plays in feeding the world population, ending hunger, achieving food security and improving nutrition. ✓ Increase collaboration between different stakeholders that operate in the rural areas. ✓ Promote concrete actions towards ending discrimination in all forms against women and girls in rural areas, promoting their empowerment through the increasing of their access to information, productive and financial resources and decision-making processes.
Key Questions?
What are the main sources of poverty in rural farming populations?

- What are the linkages between sound policies for family farming and poverty reduction?
- How can sound policies for family farming help achieving concrete targets on the SDGs 1, 2, and 14?
- What are the necessary arrangements needed to translate global commitments into tangible results and how could these be monitored?

Regional Cooperation in the Asia-Pacific for SDG Implementation in Developing and Least Developed Countries

Date: Friday, 31 March 2017

Venue: Meeting Room A

Time: 13:15 – 14:30

What will be discussed?

This side event intends to support & facilitate a discussion on regional cooperation on key instruments for the delivery of SDGs in developing and least developed countries in the region. The dialogue aims to bring the expertise of CSOs to contribute to the discussion on joint cooperation between developed, developing and LDC governments with the objective to explore how critical regional cooperation tools in a number of areas such as technology, trade, and global governance, can be used the most effectively, through the Regional Roadmap and other regional processes, to provide developing and least developed countries active support towards achieving true sustainable development in their countries.

Key Questions?

- Which means of implementation (MOI) are essential for and may be barriers to the implementation of the SDGs for developing and least developed countries in the Asia-Pacific?
- How can regional cooperation be better organized to facilitate the delivery of such MOI?
- Which regional platforms can best facilitate such cooperation?
