   - 130 participants from 22 countries, representing 31 institutions (mostly government and international organizations).
Agenda item 4 (a): Accounting for integrated statistics and analysis

Summary of advance electronic consultations among member States

1. The Committee acknowledged the importance of accounts for the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Declaration on Navigating Policy with Data to Leave No One Behind and their value for data driven decision and policy making;

2. The Committee noted with appreciation the increased efforts to compile accounts in the region during the past years, especially environmental and satellite accounts;

3. The Committee noted data and sector expertise needed for accounts often go beyond the realm and capacity of national statistical offices and hence require establishment of new partnerships and innovative collaboration arrangements; and

4. The Committee recognized regional and international collaboration on accounting and related business processes can support national efforts and strengthen national capacities through piloting and sharing of research, experimentation, and experiences.
Proposed draft decision

- The Committee decides to feature accounting for integrated statistics and analysis in its future work with an emphasis on sharing country research, experiences and good practices.

- The Committee requests the Bureau to propose, in consultation with the secretariat, modalities to that end for review and approval by the Committee, while bearing in mind the need to stay within existing regular budget resources.
Agenda item 4 (a): Accounting for integrated statistics and analysis

Views from discussants on regional collaboration on accounts

- Should regional collaboration focus on selected accounts or should it be broader and tackle issues relevant to all accounts?

- Which types of challenges could effectively be addressed through regional collaboration on accounts?

- Which modalities should be employed for future regional collaboration on accounting?

- Should regional collaboration on accounting span normative, analytical and capacity development work or should we prioritize?
