	SMEs and manufacturing enterprises (the latter via a newly created industry development fund), and infrastructure development.
Monetary	National Bank (NBK): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • [March 10] raised its policy rate from 9.25 percent to 12 percent and widened the interest rate corridor from 100 to 150 bps, after pressures on the tenge (KZT) intensified with the drop of oil prices. • [early April] cut the base rate to 9.5 percent and further widened the corridor to +/-200 bps to stimulate economic growth.
Financial	Macroprudential: To support banks and the economy, the authorities have, since the imposition of the state of emergency: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) lowered risk weights (for SME from 75% to 50%, for FX loans from 200% to 100%, and for syndicated loans from 100% to 50%); (ii) expanded the list of eligible collaterals; (iii) lowered capital conservation buffer (by one percentage point); (iv) reduced the liquidity coverage ratio requirement (from 80% to 60%), and (v) lowered limits on foreign currency positions. Banking: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Banks have requested to allow loan repayments deferrals until mid-June and refrain from charging penalties for borrowers affected by the emergency. • A pilot biometric information center has been launched to help banks identify customers in order to provide remote banking services. Foreign Exchange: NBK: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Allowed the tenge to adjust, intervening in the market to mitigate excessive volatility. • introduced a limit on bid-ask spread and lowered the ceiling of FX purchase without supporting import documents (from $100,000 to $50,000) for the duration of the state of emergency. • called on state-owned enterprises to sell part of their FX reserves to support the tenge, but the tenge remains vulnerable to oil price volatility. Support SMEs: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The authorities have encouraged banks and other lenders to grant loan repayment deferrals to eligible borrowers, and to freeze their loan classifications at the pre-COVID-19 status. Most of these measures are expected to be in place for at least six months, with some (e.g., capital conservation buffer) extending to mid-2021. Cash withdrawals limits have also been temporarily imposed on legal entities starting early June. • The authorities have also lowered risk weights for SME exposure in tenge (from 75 to 50 percent) and for FX loans (from 200 to 100 percent) to encourage lending.

Trade measures ¹⁷	Restrictive: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Kazakhstan bans export of masks. • Government has introduced a ban on the import of certain types of cement from countries outside the Eurasian Economic Union for a period of six months. • Temporary import ban on certain petroleum products from the Russian Federation delivered by railway, due to the COVID-19 pandemic. • Temporary export ban on certain types of timber (HS), due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Liberalizing: N/A.
SME measures ¹⁸	Tax exemption: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The government exempted affected SMEs from income tax, social tax, mandatory pension, and compulsory medical insurance from 1 April to 1 October 2020. • The government exempted property taxes on shopping and entertainment centres, cinemas, theatres, exhibitions, sports venues, and restaurants, hotels, and tourism from 1 April to 1 October 2020. Other fiscal support: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The government exempted rents of state-owned properties from 20 March 2020 for a period of three months. Loan support:¹⁹ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The government announced a national plan, the Economy of Simple Things, worth KZT 1 trillion, which provides loans to SMEs with an annual interest rate of 8 per cent. • The government reduced a risk weight of SMEs' exposures from 75 to 50 per cent and reduced a risk weight of foreign currency loans from 200 to 100 per cent to facilitate SME loans. Deferral of loan repayment: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan and financial institutions have reached a consensus on moratoriums of loan repayments and waivers of overdue interest penalties and additional payments on borrowers affected by emergencies. Borrowers can repay their debts until mid-June at the latest. Employment support:²⁰ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 40 billion tenge (US$100 million) will be allocated for the implementation of state and regional programs aiming for the creation of 30,000 jobs and the implementation of relief measures for small businesses.
